

THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS JUST GOT A WHOLE LOT EASIER. IF YOU WANT TO GO GREEN WITH YOUR FUTURE, MAKE A VERY GOOD LIVING, AND THRIVE ON THE BENEFITS OF HAVING A POSITIVE IMPACT ON YOUR FUTURE, THE ENVIRONMENT AND YOUR LIFE, JOIN CANADA'S FOREST PRODUCTS INDUSTRY.

JOBS IN DEMAND

SKILLED TRADES:

- Industrial electricians
- Heavy-duty equipment mechanics
- Millwrights and industrial mechanics
- Power steam engineers
- Process engineers
- Steamfitters and pipefitters

SCIENCES:

- Chemical engineers
- Electrical and electronics engineers
- Forestry professionals
- Industrial engineers
- Mechanical engineers

CORPORATE AND ONSITE OFFICES:

- Accounting and related administrative clerks
- Forest economists and risk analysts
- Human resources and recruitment officers
- Information technology specialists
- Logging and forestry supervisors

WOODLANDS OPERATIONS AND GENERAL LABOUR:

- Environmental supervisors
- Forestry technologists and technicians
- Heavy equipment operators
- Logging truck drivers
- Silviculturalists

For a complete list visit
TheGreenestWorkforce.ca

FIND OUT MORE AT THEGREENESTWORKFORCE.CA

NURTURE YOUR FUTURE. YOUR ENVIRONMENT. YOUR LIFE.

If you want good pay, opportunities to learn on the job, a great lifestyle and the chance to work in Canada's greenest workforce, then the forest products industry is right for you.

Canadian forest product companies will need to hire 60,000, or more, new workers by 2020 to meet demand. We hope you'll be one of them!

WHY FORESTRY?

The forests are a renewable natural resource and the Canadian forest products industry is known for its world-class environmental credentials, including having the most certified forests in the world, and cutting more than 70% of its greenhouse gas emissions since 1990.

The industry offers something for everyone. It's an industry with a reputation for investing in skills training and career growth, and no matter what part of the forest products industry you work in — on the mill floor as a mechanical engineer, or in the forest as a forestry technician — every job is part of the greenest industry in Canada.

GO HIGH-TECH

Canada's forest products industry is committed to innovation. The industry's traditional products like pulp, paper and lumber are fundamental to the success of new products like renewable bio-fuels, green bio-plastics, bio-pharmaceuticals, bulletproof vests, car parts and airplane wings. These are all part of the dynamic new face of the Canadian forest products industry. Ford is using wood fibre to reduce its reliance on fibreglass and petroleum. Seatbelts, moldings and tires are just a few of the automotive innovations being driven by wood fibre.

Markets for bio-products from wood fibre already exist. These new markets will reach an estimated $65 billion by 2015. Come and join an exciting industry with great opportunities in new products and markets!

THE LIFE YOU GET

Work-life balance isn't hard to come by if you choose to join Canada's greenest workforce. Canada's forest products industry believes providing a good job with a solid career path is just the beginning. Balancing your work life and your real life is also key. And there is no better place to strike that balance than in a tight-knit forest community with all the amenities you want from a big city, plus the natural beauty of the outdoors in your own backyard.

And when it comes to backyards, forest product industry workers tend to find big ones attached to nice, affordable houses, with space enough for entertaining friends and family. Short commutes and a community lifestyle round out the package.

You get the luxuries of life: earning a good living in a community with a lower cost of living, which means more time and money to spend on the things that really matter to you.

EARN WHAT YOU DESERVE

- ▶ get paid to learn on the job
- ▶ move up the career ladder quickly

PERKS AT SOME COMPANIES COULD INCLUDE

- Great pay
- Health and wellness benefits
- Training and skills developments
- Promotion from within
- Pensions and packages

THE LIFE YOU WANT

- Affordable cost of living
- Short commutes
- Attractive real estate
- Access to the great outdoors
- Career growth and opportunities